

The image shows a detailed red-on-white PCB layout. A specific signal trace is highlighted with a blue rounded rectangle. This trace starts from a microcontroller (LPC) on the left, travels horizontally, and then branches into a series of vertical segments, each connected to a component on the right (DAC).

FMC LPC から DAC への
データ伝搬線を等長配線